

ARCHAEOLOGY SEMINAR SERIES

Department of Archaeology and History

Inquiries: Phillip Edwards
p.edwards@latrobe.edu.au

WEEKLY

SECOND SEMESTER 2020

Time

Thursdays, various times

Venue

Bundoora Campus, Melbourne,
Australia

Seminars are presented as Zoom Webinars, scheduled predominantly as evening meetings (Australian Eastern Standard Time). Please send on the email addresses of colleagues you would like us to include on our distribution list

23-Jul	Cameron Petrie University of Cambridge	Does climate change really cause collapse? The case of the Indus Civilisation
30-Jul	Vincent Gaffney University of Bradford	The Stonehenge Hidden Landscapes Project
6-Aug	Gill Plunkett Queen's University Belfast	Resolving the role of volcanic forcing in the fall of the Roman Republic
13-Aug	Brian Byrd Far Western Anthropological Research Group (USA)	Community-based Archaeology at Sîi Túupentak in the San Francisco Bay Area
20-Aug	Takeshi Inomata University of Arizona	Early monumental constructions and the Origins of Maya Civilization
27-Aug	Gavin Lucas University of Iceland	Periodization in Archaeology: starting in the ground
Mid-semester break, 31 Aug - 4 Sep
10-Sep	Armin Schmidt GeodataWIZ, Germany	Archaeological geophysics: the Good, the Bad and the Ugly – why quality matters
17-Sep	Carenza Lewis University of Lincoln	Medieval settlements and plague pandemics in England
24-Sep	Hilary Orange University of Chester/ University of Swansea	Rock and Pop shrines and memorials: from Elvis to Amy Winehouse
1-Oct	Archaeology 4 Honours & MA students La Trobe University	Three-minute thesis results
8-Oct	Shahina Farid Historic London	Building relationships at Neolithic Çatalhöyük - unravelling the chronological development of the settlement
15-Oct	Andy Fairbairn University of Queensland	Cultivating and foraging on Turkey's Konya Plain from 9500-7,000 BC: insights from Pınarbası, Boncuklu and Canhasan III