

ARCHAEOLOGY SEMINAR SERIES

Department of Archaeology and History

Inquiries: Phillip Edwards
p.edwards@latrobe.edu.au

Seminars are presented as Zoom Webinars, scheduled predominantly as afternoon or evening meetings. Please send on the email addresses of colleagues you would like us to notify

4-Mar	Adam Brumm Griffith University	Pigs, popcorn, and the Pleistocene rock art of Sulawesi
11-Mar	Jose Iriarte University of Exeter	An Ice Age Art Gallery in Amazonia? The End of the Journey Project
18-Mar	Hilary Howes Australian National University	Uncovering Pacific Pasts: an international exhibition on histories of archaeology in Oceania
25-Mar	Lorena Becerra-Valdivia Oxford Radiocarbon Accelerator Unit	A chronology to the initial peopling of the Americas
1-Apr	Tanya Smith Griffith University	The Tales Teeth Tell: human development, evolution, and behaviour
Mid-semester break, 5-9 April
15-Apr	Brad Duncan University of New England/ Heritage NSW	Riverine cultural landscapes of New South Wales
22 - Apr	Rachel Popelka-Filcoff University of Melbourne	Exploring the layers of Indigenous Australian natural pigments using spectroscopic and nuclear methods
29 - Apr	Matt Carter Major Projects Foundation, Australia	A Toxic Legacy: Second World War shipwrecks in the Pacific
6 - May	Archaeology 4 Honours & MA students La Trobe University	Three-minute thesis results
13 - May	Melissa Kennedy & Hugh Thomas University of Western Australia	From the mustatil to 'pendants' – investigating the Middle Holocene landscapes of Northwest Arabia
20 - May	Ina Kehrberg-Ostracz University of Sydney	The Gerasa Hippodrome: a mirror of the cultural and socio-economic history of Jarash in Jordan
27-May	Anna Florin University of Cambridge	Plant food use and early human adaptation to novel environments in Island Southeast Asia, Australia and New Guinea